Guest Speaker: Adam Taylor, Director Taylor Made Tours

Adam Taylor is Director of Taylor Made Tours. He is Sydney born and bred. After successfully completing an Economics degree at Macquarie University his journey took him to Financial Markets as an Institutional Interest Rate sales broker working in various locations around the world. He credits that journey with developing a strong research and client service ethic. He is very actively involved in his local community, particularly through sporting activity. His brother Simon started Taylor Made Tours back in 1997, driven by interests in travel, history, geography and most importantly, actively engaging with people. His professional goal is to provide a personal service for like-minded travellers ensuring they have a holiday experience to fondly remember, and ideally share with others.
